

Anne Woodard

January 15, 1913 - November 12, 2009

Mrs. Anne Woodard, age 96, of Bangor, passed away peacefully Thursday, November 12, 2009, in South Haven, Michigan. She was born January 15, 1913, in Chicago, Illinois. The family will meet with friends Tuesday from 6-8 PM at Bangor Chapel, D. L. Miller Funeral Home. The family will also meet with family and friends in Des Plaines, Illinois, at Oehler Funeral Home Thursday, from 10-11 AM where Mass of Christian Burial will be at 11:00 AM. Following the services Mrs. Woodard will be entombed at All Saints Mausoleum and Cemetery in Des Plaines, Illinois, to be near her beloved husband. Never having had a driver's license, Anne rode the bus on a regular basis. When asked later in life, what she did when she was young to walk so well at her age, she would respond, "Dancing! I loved to dance and went to the ballrooms in Chicago." She also enjoyed sewing, reading and listening to classical music. Her husband, William H. Woodard, preceded her in death in 1987. Surviving are three daughters—Carol Bowen of Lawrence, Kansas; Sandra Irby of Emigrant, Montana; and Anne Blohm of Crystal Lake, Illinois; three grandchildren and two great grandchildren; a brother, George Plesha of Norridge, Illinois; and a sister, Madeline Stratmoen of Arlington Heights, Illinois.

“ I am so saddened to hear of your mothers passing. She was a very special lady and I think of her often. I had the pleasure of being one of her bus drivers. I also was given the gift of some of her Daylillies by her door. I will always rember her when I look at them.##imported-begin##kim Parsell (Van Buren Public transit Dispatch.
