“ You will be missed and my heart will forever be filled the great memories and the love our family shared. The many lessons you have taught me. Thank you mom, with out those I would not be the strong woman I am today. Most of all what my mother has passed down to me is how to be compassionate with others, a true friend and a patient mother to my own daughters. I love you mom 💕💕 Your footprints will always walk beside me helping along this journey we call life.
