“ Man i am so down right now after learning about the passing of Deante. The first time i met him was after i filled out an application at South Haven's Menard and I was about to leave and he came and stopped me at the door on my way out and asked me if i really wanted to work there because he needed some hard working people in his department, i said yes and he told me to wait a minute the next thing i know i was hired on the spot. In less than a year i became a manager and he and i became good friends. I was so bummed out when he transfered to the Three Rivers store, now after seeing his birthday notification pop up on my timeline and seeing that he passed away a year ago really breaks my heart😭😭
