“Caroline and I have been friends for over 50 years. Growing up I spent a lot of time at the Johnson’s home. Over the past week, I have been reminiscing with Caroline about memories of her mom, but I find myself having a hard time thinking of what memory or tribute I can share about Mrs. Johnson (as I always called her).

When I think of Mrs. Johnson, I think of how steady and calm she always was. No matter what mischief Caroline and I got into, she would just look at us, shake her head and say, “Oh, girls.” I envied her organizational skills (everything had a place). I appreciated her lists that she always had, even years ago. I respected her faith. I admired her belief in always doing for others. I am grateful to her for always welcoming me into her home.

Caroline and Julie, may you find peace in knowing that you had a mother that loved you both very much and touched so many people.

“ Hugs and prayers to Julie, Caroline, and family. Your mom was always there when we were growing up to help with anything we ever needed. She had a big giving and steady heart. Although she has moved on from you, she has left many wonderful memories for you to smile on as each day passes.
