I remember Dustin as being so polite. At Wal-mart he always made sure to open the door and let me go first. Always called me Maam, and ask how my day is going. He always took the time to care about others and help them if he could. I used to tease him about wearing ties in the back and told him someday he would be a Manager. I hope that God sees those virtues in him and let him be a Manager in Heaven. He will be greatly missed to everyone who knew him.
