“Dad, just want to say thanks for your honorable ethics, good times, and your stability with in the family.
I listened to relatives talking about how strong and fast you were. Yet you chose to work, so as to support the family through your high school days. You went on to be an Eagle boy scout, 2 yrs in the army, graduate of Wayne State University as a pharmacist, then provided an 80 acre playground for your family. My brothers and I were so fortunate. Your shoes I could never fill. I can honestly say that God blessed this family by providing a leader like you. You will always be in my heart.
Thank you, Dad

We have known Jack for many years and became good friends . We shared many fun times together. We bowled on the same bowling team for 20 plus years. He always greeted us with his big welcoming smile. I did artwork for Pharmacia at the time so since I knew Jack I asked him if he would play a pharmacist (ha ha) for some photo shoots which we used a few times in ads .
We are going to miss the fun times, going out for dinner together, but most of all your boisterous contagious laughter
God Bless you Jack thanks for being our good friend .
Love , Brad & Gail Deal
