Is always funny he was always serious at the same time you always come to the house what are you stressed with the family can you download on us soon we talked to him and try to support every bit of him but when he came over some days he was really high and I'd confront them I said oh no I'm not and then he'll stumble into the wall well maybe a little he say give him a lecture give him a pep talk and then we would hug and say we loved each other and I'd always prayed for his well-being I love that kid more than you ever knew
