“ One of my favorite memories of Jeff was my first day on my FZ6. It was my first sport bike and I had little experience. He coached me well and we tore up the back roads all day. On a hill, at a stand still, I slipped slowly dropping the bike and rolled across the road! The look on his face was priceless. Being well geared I was fine, bike was fine but for a moment Jeff sure was scared! I had learned a lesson and away we went. Next thing I know he goes sailing by me riding a wheelly with such grace and ease. Jeff lived big, loved hard and inspired many. He will be missed more than words can say.

“ Trudy and I were fortunate enough to have met Jeff through our daughter Steena. Jeff always seemed happy and took a lot of things in stride.
I just visited with Jeff about 2 weeks ago at the Verizon store where he was employed and had a good conversation with him about our families.
Jeff will be missed by all that know him.
Our prayers and thoughts are with the family.

“ I was a part of a camping trip up to Silver Lake with Jeff and the Karrs some time back. While everyone on the dunes drove their vehicles or atvs, he stood out enjoying his bike. Granted it rained most of the trip, but I'll never forget it. Cramming 6 people in a tiny tent and sharing a full size air mattress to avoid the rain tends to stay with you. For however brief a time I knew you, I was lucky to do so. My thoughts are with your family.

“ One of the craziest memories I have is when I took Jeff racing motocross with me. 3 days after the race in which Jeff took a hard spill, he calls me from the hospital. Turned out he had broken his neck and walked around like that for 3 days!! He was an amazing person, all my memories are good. I'm lucky to have known him. We love and will miss you Jeffro. “ It was a wonderful day when I met the Lee family. My daughter brought me over to her boyfriend Craig's family's home. All of us went swimming at their favorite spot.. Jeff had offered to drive me as there were many of us that day... I had told him that I loved muscle cars and he had a souped up Chevy Nova that was awesome. There were fireflies by the hundreds as we were going home after swimming and Jeff gave me a preview of what his car could do, YAHOO! was my response. He had quite the big grin come over his already ever smiling face. There were many more times the family had gathered and it was always a pleasure seeing him. He was always interested in what everyone was up to. God rest you my boy, you touched my life and I'll never forget. God bless all the Lee family. May he hold you up and get you through this terribly sad time.

“ Lee family, I have read of the loss of your loved one to death. I didn't know Jeff personally. But, I'd like his family to know that some in the community care about them at this traumatic time. Many of us draw comfort from the scriptures. I draw comfort in knowing that Our Creator intends to eliminate death in the future. This is found at 1 Corinthians 15:26. He can also help us now. Psalm 55:22 lets us know that "He can sustain us and not let us fall." Let God know what you're going through and allow Him to help you cope. May God's Word help ease mourning hearts at this time. Sincerely, Cathy Taylor
