“ Carol,

My deepest sympathy to you and your family at this time.

My thoughts and Prayer are with all of you.

It's never easy losing a loved one, it seems like the whole world stops. It doesn't, and that is where you need your family and friends the most. The love that you have for your father will always be in your heart.

We have to trust and have faith in God knowing that he's in control. There is always a reason for all things that happen in our lives. We may not know what it is now, but someday we will.

I'm glad that I was able to meet your dad even if it was for a short moment. He seem to be a nice, caring loving man.

Stay strong for your Mom, she'll need you even more now. Jeff take care of our Carol she'll need lots of love.

Your Friend Always,

Kim##imported-begin##Kim Christman##imported-end##

“ Dale,

I want you to know how very much your visits meant to our family when our mom passed away in 1998 and then recently when our dad died in February. Somehow the comfort that is drawn from old friends and old memories is remarkably healing. I am blessed that the friendship you have shared for so many years with John has spilled over into my life. Please know that you and your mom and the rest of your family are in our prayers. I pray that God's grace and peace will sustain you in the days and months to come, and that the precious memories you have of your dad will be a healing balm.

*In deepest sympathy,
Dan and Lori (Willsea) Miller*

“ I have such great memories of being in the Hawkins home during my high school years, up to one thing or another with Dale. I always knew I would need to run the gauntlet of Mr. Hawkins and his ribbing me for buying my little Honda Civic "jap crap" car, especially after it blew an engine. I also remember countless hours spent playing ping pong in the basement and being coached on the games finer points. He was a master, and you knew you were getting better when you could score a good serve, even though winning a game against him was rare.

He was a special man who was deeply faithful to his wife and family. His abiding presence was felt throughout their home. He will be dearly missed.

Our family is praying for you as you walk through your grief. May you say, even as David did in Psalm 16:1, "Keep me safe, O God, for in you I take refuge."

*With all our love,
John Willsea and family##imported-begin##John Willsea##imported-end##*
