“ *Jo and Christine used to stop by my house for a visit every year. They grew up in my home and used to walk to school with my grandmother. They shared many stories with me about growing up on the farm. My grandmother and Jo were childhood friends. My grandmother is now 94. She still talks about the Cerrony girls. Whenever Jo came by I would give her some vegetables from the garden. She was such an interesting, kind lady. She had a wonderful memory - I just loved to visit with her. Emmeline Towne
