I miss you so much. A lot has happened since you have been gone. I wish I could talk to you. I wish you could hug me and advise me like you used to. Mom you were that and so much more. I hope you and your siblings are having a good time together, I know you aren't lonely anymore. I love and miss you so much, and I want to say thank you for being my angel. I feel good knowing you are beside me.
