“ Ferg and I met at South Junior High - probably in art class, although I don't remember exactly. I loved hanging out with Ferg - getting cherry cokes at the drug store, meeting up at the Crane Park tennis courts, going to canteens at South, talking about boys we liked. We lost touch for a while when I left Kalamazoo, but reconnected a few years back and I always looked forward to seeing her when I was back in Michigan. I loved following her on Facebook - what she was cooking for dinner, how her flowers were growing, or where she and Gary had lunch, or Satchel's day was. I miss her. She was a kind, gentle soul.

“Fergie” gone . . . no, not really . . . not any more than sunshine is gone on a cloudy day.

From 1969 til 1979, I worked with Linda and saw a vivacious and classy lady that had real style. Her love of flowers, food and Gulf shore cottages was well known. But she was also known for her ease in making friends AND keeping them.

I'm grateful for meeting her that last time in 2014 . . . lets hold each other a little closer.
