“ She was an amazing aunt! I loved her with all my heart! I will always remember her laugh and how she would always end up going to the auction. She would also end up sifting through the dumpster in the back of the auction house. She will always be in my heart. I still love her!!!

I am unsure why on earth the comment about my grandma sifting through the dumpster in the back of the auction house was made this is untrue. You know good and well that my grandparents owned the business and done very well for themselves, no need to dumpster dive. This is a discredit to her name and the person that she was this was very inappropriate to put on a memory page.
