“ Peter and I were 'Guru brothers,' as 'chelas' (disciples) of Sanyasin Gurus belonging to the Shri Panch Juna Akarra, one of the oldest orders of ascetic Hindu monks. We first met in Rishikesh, on the banks of the Ganges River, and both were profoundly affected by our time with the Gurus, Naga Babas, and their followers. Peter's Guru was Mahant DhunRaj Giri. His ashes will be scattered in the Ganges near the Guru Astan where he spent so much time and learned so much. Om Nahmoh Narayan, Guru Bhai.

“ Peter and I rode our bikes to school together. We were in the Cub Scouts, the Boy Scouts and friends for 70 plus years. My memories of our times together are fantastic. Peter could arrive in a foreign country and in a short time speak the language. When I had a question or something to discuss, Peter got the call. I will miss my wonderful friend.

“ Peter's journey through life afforded him a wide range of cultural experience and a deep commitment to his spiritual practice. A man of integrity, Peter uniquely led a life close to the earth—and he had amazing gardens of flowers and vegetables in South Haven. Friends and family were precious to him.
