“ God bless, Rob. Thanks for all the advice (most of it good, i hope :). I wish i had known you for more than just 3+ months. Perrigo is a dimmer place without you. Plant seven is certainly a quieter place. My condolences to the family... yours seemed to me to be a good man.##imported-begin###don rabideau jr##imported-end##

“ I am the nephew of Eddy & Evelyn Konar and was at the farm on the day after the tore the old house down with my cousin, Eileen. We remembered feeling so sad about seeing the old house laying in a heap. Robin told us of his plans to build a new house on the same place while living in the home he created out of the concrete block building set further back. I helped Flore, a friend of my grandfather, Steve Konar, build that concrete building one of the many summers I spent as a teenager on the farm with my grandfather.

So sorry to hear of Robin's passing. He was too young. I am now 68 myself and Robin looked healthier than me when I saw him back then.

Three years ago, I moved from Illinois to Florida. I live about 20 miles away from cousin Diane Penn who sent me this notice.##imported-begin###Bob Pilarski##imported-end##
