“ When we owned the Bowling Alley we were always happy to see Roy come in. We considered him more than a customer, he was a friend. He and George used to have a friendly competition going on as they were both anchor men on their team. George nicknamed him "artichoke" hoping her would choke up. Sometimes it worked and sometimes it backfired. My condolences to Marilyn and the family. I know Roy is in a much better place, maybe he and George can now find something to share together once again. Enjoy your happy memories as they a more precious than ever. You are in my thoughts and prayers. Love, Arlyce Williams
