“ It's took me this long to write this Wes was my village market buddy, no matter when I went there he would be there before I was done and we would tell each other updates on news on different goings on, and he made me be a witness for a cop that tried to bust him for no seatbelt on, and he gave cop what for I just knew we would end up going to jail but he stood his ground and won that round but I told him never again was he gonna lock me into being witness as he laughed his head off , telling me don't count on it ! The hardest part is I still look for him to show up at store, I get sad when I have to remember it's true he won't be! So Wes I shall see u when we run into the place on high, we can catch up then lol so long to guy I found as my friend along the way

Everytime I grab eggs out of my fridge I think of Wes and that egg! So many fond memories and good stories. Fly high Wes, you will be missed greatly.*
